Cold weather arrives

We all knew it was about to happen. The chance of getting through November and December without needing coats, gloves, boots, handwarmers, and long underwear seemed slim. I held out some hope that Al Gore was right and we could shoot year round in tee shirts, but it is not to be, at least for this year. So what do we do until the sun shines again?

Well pin shooters never know when to quit and we will continue our matches throughout the winter on the 2nd Sunday of every month. If you haven't tried this it is very addictive and you will have plenty of "coaching support" from other shooters.

The gun show circuit is going strong. This might be a good time to buy a new or used gun, reloading supplies, or shooting accessories. Through the winter I will try to give you listings of the upcoming shows and maybe a review of some of the shows. I am usually bored with walking through a mall or shopping center but somehow the smell of gun oil makes it a lot more interesting.

Another great activity for when the snow flies and the thermometer drops is reloading. The next few months should provide plenty of opportunity to refill some cartridge cases- to refill some boxes- to refill your ammo locker- to refill your guns when you get to shoot again. If you look at reloading as a chore it is still easier to do when you are not busy shooting matches.

For the hunters among us there are still some prime hunting days left in the season. If you haven't got your deer yet we still have a couple of days of gun season left as well as muzzle loading season. Don't forget rabbit season goes through the end of February.

Range News

The range will be closing for the season December 16th. Sometime after that the executive committee will meet with Terry to discuss how the year went. I will try to have a summary by the next newsletter. Some of us have been doing some minor maintenance. The safe has been installed and some of the cracks in the blacktop paths of the rifle, pistol, and shotgun ranges have been patched. The executive committee also voted to buy a used garden tractor. Jeff Hanger found us a good deal and the tractor will probably be used soon, unfortunately, to push snow from the pistol range. No fear there will still be plenty to do on the Work Party in the spring.

NRA Grant

The final purchases have been made from our grant and we are in the process of compiling pictures and documents to submit to the NRA to complete the process. We now have the equipment for a small classroom in the basement. This includes tables, chairs, a dry erase board, and an overhead projector. We would like to use this classroom to work with small youth groups and also make it available for CCW classes or hunter safety classes.
